WE BELIEVE IN THE CULTURE OF QUALITY

We are structured as a “company network.” Our goal is to be involved across the entire textile chain by making the most of our centuries–old know–how.

Marzotto functions as a hub in the textile supply chain through our national and global acquisitions and agreements. Marzotto is active in the clothing wool and cotton sectors, in the velvet sector, in the knitwear wool yarns sector and in the linen yarns and silk sectors.

Our value lies in our history and Group–wide know–how, in the conceptual and creative ability of our human resources, in our international structure, in our capacity to manage processes from raw materials to logistics, in the wealth of material contained in our historical archives.

The mission of Marzotto Group is to be a full–service textile company that is able to coordinate a wide range of skills and processes and to optimize its know–how along the entire textile supply chain.

In Marzotto, we believe in making the best products for our clients.

In every fabric, there is our everyday commitment to the environment, the planet and the people.

It was the year 1836 when Luigi Marzotto, moved by his passion for premium quality, created a small textile lab that over the years has gone worldwide. Ancient knowhow, constant investments, international ambition. Our history is made of our untiring passion for excellence. Our values are based on great knowledge and constant research of innovative products. We do work in a centuries-old profession, and yet we wish to keep our young mindset openness to new solutions.

Seersucker

Seersucker fabric is purely summer and for its curled characteristic feature does not rest entirely in contact with the skin and allows heat dissipation facilitating breathability.

Calvino's Visibility literally inspired the new 3D line of fabrics where embossed surfaces play with light, space, touch and imagination.

“Imagination is the repertoire of the potential”. In fabric this potential has been expressed in material volumes, that occupy the physical space with defined and clear drawings. Like an embossed surface that reminds us of the infinite sea waves; it makes us feel the same desire, inexhaustible, fascinating and discovering where everything begins.

Imitation knitted fabric

Imitation knit fabric is softer, more elastic, and stretchable, which makes the suit more comfortable to wear and provides greater freedom of movement. It can adapt to different body shapes and offer a better wearing experience. Imitation knit fabric allows diverse designs with various textures and patterns. This gives the suit a more personalized and fashionable appearance, catering to different aesthetic preferences.
